I am a Frontend Developer with around 4 years of experience in the software industry. Working intensively in the Front-End field, I develop projects with current technologies and tools such as JavaScript, TypeScript, React, Redux, ContextAPI, Tailwind Css, Resful API and Git.

I am success- and result-oriented, prone to research, aiming for both myself and professional development, and highly motivated to develop projects and produce new ideas.

By closely following technological developments, I focus on continuous development and improvements in Frontend software processes, which is my primary goal.
